Ritenour

Ritenour is coming together. From STUCO and LEADERSHIP activities to the small clubs such as COMPUTER and DEBATE. From FOOTBALL and WRESTLING to BASEBALL and TRACK. From the renovation of Moore Field to the renovation of the building, Ritenour is coming together and doing it with style.

Cardinals' Day Celebrated Redbirds' Advance to the 1985 World Series

In a historic I-70 World Series, St. Louis and Kansas City battled through seven games which left Kansas City the winner. Regardless of the outcome, the 1985 Cardinal baseball season was the most exciting ever. Ozzie Smith, Willie McGee, and Vince Coleman stole our breath away as they stole a record number of bases. The Redbirds won 101 games in regular season play — another record breaker. The World Series didn't diminish our heroes: Willie McGee captured the National League MVP title and was the NL batting champion. Vince Coleman established a new record for stolen bases in a single season by a rookie. On the more notorious side, we witnessed Joaquin Andujar bully a World Series umpire and saw John Tudor's bandaged hand expressing his frustration when he took a swing at an electric fan. Nothing stopped St. Louis from celebrating and Ritenour joined in with Cardinals' Day. The halls were filled with red and white. Loyalty showed in hats, shirts, jackets, and buttons. The stats belong to the record books, but the personal glimpses into the lives of our heroes belong to us.

Staying on Track With A New Athletic Field

The fall of '85 saw band members and Rhythmettes practicing on the parking lot and the football Huskies with only two home games. Next year, no such hardships will be suffered thanks to the new track and field put in during the summer and fall of '85. Along with new turf and an all-weather track, new metal bleachers were installed and new stadium lights ring the field. The new track facilities will enable Ritenour to hold major meets with even more pride and excellence.

Activity Buttons Are Boost to School Spirit

Mr. Stokes, who issued the Commitment posters, also distributed activity buttons for fall, winter, and spring sports and organizations. The slogan on the orange-black-white button read: Academics + Activities = Participating Students Achieving. Everyone who was a member of a charter organization or a sport received one. There were three official days to wear activity buttons, but a lot of students proudly displayed theirs on jackets and shirts every day.

Machines Make the Education Process Easier

Computers have implanted themselves in our daily lives, taking over some secretaries', guidance counselors', and the teachers' work. Computers are here and in the future may very well run a school district such as Ritenour. Many of the people in the school don't realize the impact the computer has already made. Every hour a pupil is out of class, an attendance card is sent to a master computer which files this information for later use.

When a student requests a transcript, a guidance counselor heads for the computer to recall any information needed, such as: days absent, class rank, major test scores, grade point average, citizenship, and discipline referrals. Any counselor or teacher can recall all or any of this at the touch of a few keys. The computer syndrome even touches our education directly. Many of the tests and semester exams we take are graded by a Scan-Tron machine. The machine, a high-tech grading instrument, is also a computer.

Many courses at Ritenour deal directly with the continuing use of these machines, such as: data processing, computer science, and computer programming.

Of course, machines other than computers are vital to the education process: typewriters, copiers, adding machines, driving simulators, and shop equipment. Without the hands-on experience these machines offer, education would certainly be less attractive. Maybe someday, in the not-too-distant future, our own great-great-grandchildren will grow up in a school system where machines aren't controlled by seen hands and not understand our stories of human school teachers.

COMMITMENT
Commitment is what transforms a promise into reality.
t is the words that speak boldly of our intentions, and he actions which speak louder than the words. It is naking the time when there is none... coming through ime after time after time, year after year after year.
Commitment is the stuff character is made of, the ower to change the face of things. It is the daily riumph of integrity over skepticism.

The 1985 Homecoming held a first — Ritenour's first black Homecoming Queen. Theresa Partee didn't think she had a chance; as she walked down the field at halftime, she was ready to congratulate one of the other candidates. When the drums began to beat, the tension rose. Laura Todisman walked up to the podium and announced Theresa's name. "I jumped straight up and the split in my skirt jumped as high as I did!" exclaimed Theresa. When asked how it felt to be Homecoming Queen, she replied, "It feels really good. It's a great honor. It makes me feel important to know that I have a lot of friends and people to respect and know me enough to give me this great opportunity." What does being Homecoming Queen mean to Theresa? "It means a great deal to me, being the first black female to really accomplish something and to be proud of what I have done. I feel and pray that this is just a beginning for the black students at Ritenour."

Who We Are and How We're Different

The Cliques and Quacks of RHS

Everyone has a certain style and way of expressing themselves. In every place you look there are different kinds of people. Most styles and waves are set by teens. So, of course, what better place could there be to focus on types of people than at Ritenour High School. Let's take an unbiased look at people and their cliques.

JOCKS — Remember when sweat pants were only seen in the gym? Well now they've become a jock must. Among other things, Ritenour jocks come fully equipped with high-top Nikes, which can be worn with everything from those favorite sweat pants to the seldomly worn slacks, Puma windbreakers that resemble fancy Hefty Bags, and the ever-so-popular sweat bands that come in assorted sizes and colors.

BURN-OUTS — A distant cousin and total opposite of the jocks, burn-outs are categorized by the clothes they wear. A typical burn-out will never be seen without a blue jean jacket. This jacket is the same one that their parents wore in the 60's. This jacket has seen the madness of Woodstock and the laid-back look of the 70's. Besides the jacket, watch out for those four-inch-thick soles of their hiking boots. Ouch! And no burn-out is complete without a confirmed faith in KSHE-95.

PREPS — This clique has really swept the nation. This has the guys putting mousse in their hair and adjusting their petal-pink oxfords. This style comes with turtlenecks, Guess? jeans, asymmetrical haircuts, and a "yuppie-to-be" attitude towards life.

TRENDSETTERS — We've all seen these people. How could you miss them? Being original is one thing, clashing is another. With their ripped clothes and weird styles, these folks put fashion out of mind and let their imagination take over.

NERDS (a.k.a. dorks or geeks) — I'm sure you all know one of these. There is probably one who sits behind you in a class. This group covers almost everyone who still thinks the Animal House is a new zoo complex. These people wear any style of clothing that is out of style. Of course the dorks don't know they are out of it and try to fit in. How about those giant bags that carry every book to every class? Or those "no-name" brand tennis shoes? And, of course, there's always that annoyingly high I.Q.

This sums up probably three-fourths of the people at RHS. What about the other one-fourth? Well, some just can't be classified. And when it all comes down and we look at more than how a person dresses or acts, people are just people. We're all the same inside. So next time you see someone wearing earmuffs with their tropical shorts, or two different-colored socks, or a blue jean jacket, try and look beyond their clothes for the real person.

Student Basketball Team Upsets Faculty, 51-50

After many years of vowing revenge, the student basketball team got to taste it. In an unbelievably close game, the "kids" defeated the faculty at the buzzer, 51-50.

The faculty volleyball team, however, kept those upstarts in their place by winning two out of three games. With only a two point lead in the game, it was as nerve-wracking as the basketball head turner.

Thankfully, a class act entertained during halftime. The faculty rhythmettes, well-disguised, treated fans to a never-before-done rendition of "The Bird" by Morris Day.

Coming Together to Fall Apart

Graduation marked the final gathering of the class of '86. As the over 380 seniors came together for this emotional event, they realized that was the last time they would be together as a whole. Tears fell but smiles were affixed to the proud faces of the Senior class.

Both Senior speakers reminded their class about friendship and bonds to Ritenour that shouldn't be forgotten but kept strong. Those bonds were tightened through the memories of high school years.

Thoughts of freshman year came flying back as the Seniors sat on their chairs waiting ever so patiently for their names to be called. "Boy, back then, I never thought I'd make it," echoed through the minds of several.

Then came sophomore year memories. "Oh what a year! Maybe the best ever. Things were so laid back and casual then." The upperclassmen did not pick on you because you were a freshman and teachers did not hate you because of an upperclassman attitude.

Junior year came rushing through. Several '86ers started establishing themselves with a premature upperclassman attitude.

As the proud Senior stands in line waiting to receive that diploma, Senior memories washed over everyone. Homecoming! Prom! Government! Homework! Dr. Boxerman! "Oh, I'm going to miss Ritenour!" Thank you's were whispered as diplomas were received, but this time they came deep from the heart.

Heart-felt hugs followed the procession and finally, after 13 years together, the Senior class of 1986 departed from one another enriched with memories and experiences they will never forget.

How Does It Feel to be a Senior Citizen?

Mrs. McMillan's Sociology class did a study of how America treats its senior citizens. Five students volunteered to dress and act old for one day to observe the treatment of seniors by teenagers. Here's what they learned:

"They don't get any respect," reported Cherrel Mosely.

"Older people can have negative attitudes, and I discovered why by walking down the hall at a slower pace," Jenny Reid commented.

Laura Todisman observed, "People just kind of laugh and ignore you."

"People laugh behind your back and just kind of shove you aside," explained Stacy Borders.

Kevin Hennkens reported, "I learned how a senior citizen could really look down on younger people because of the "going-off." I discovered they have feelings that can be hurt, too."

Leadership Recognition Tea

In early May, Leadership came through for the students again by hosting a Leadership Recognition Tea.

The purpose of the tea was to honor those students who have contributed to their clubs in exceptional ways with exceptional devotion.

Mr. Trautwein was on hand to congratulate each recipient and refreshments were provided following the awards.

Pulling Together

Organizations

STUCO Always in the Limelight

Dedication and Determination

The student council sponsors of Ritenour High are very special people. They are hardworking, dedicated teachers who enjoy working and being with young adults. Mrs. Cathy Nickens, who became a STUCO sponsor in July, 1980, says that she became a sponsor because she had "some crazy, idealistic notion that I could make a difference in more students' and teachers' lives at RHS if I could sponsor this group."

When presented with the same question, Mr. Paul Giebler, who became a sponsor in 1980 also, stated that his main goal was "just to get the kids involved in school activities."

There are many rewards in working with Student Council and Mrs. Nickens thinks the best is the senior citizen dinner. When she sees the pride and love exchanged between the senior citizens and her students, it really makes her feel wonderful to be a part of their lives. Mr. Giebler also expressed the pleasure that he gets from being in the company of young people.

Student Council is active in many activities at Ritenour and Mrs. Nickens said some of her favorite activities are the March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon, the student-faculty games, the Meals-On-Wheels program, and the senior citizens' dinner. Mr. Giebler's favorites are the float trips and the senior citizens' dinner.

It's obvious that these two people enjoy what they are doing and love being with the students; if RHS STUCO always has someone as dedicated as they, STUCO will continue to be an active and successful part of students' lives.

Getting It Together

This year Ritenour Student Council, a.k.a. RHS STUCO, was involved in a wide variety of activities. The student council district workshop that was sponsored by Ritenour this year was a big success. The many dances, such as Homecoming and Valentine's Day were enjoyable events. To honor their heroes or persons they admired, STUCO sponsored events such as Teachers' Appreciation Week and Breakfast, Cardinals' Day, Veterans' Day, and Everyday Heroes' Week, where students recognized people around them as being heroes. STUCO works year round to make many school days special.

Very few students and people of the community are aware of what Ritenour Student Council stands for. RHS STUCO is dedicated to helping the community and every year, all year round, they give something to the community.

In the fall, there's the Senior Citizens' Thanksgiving dinner which provides companionship and love for the senior citizens and gives the students a chance to enhance their lives. During the Christmas holidays, RHS STUCO provides a Christmas dinner for the underprivileged children of the community. In the spring, Student Council participates in the March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon which not only benefits the students and community, but also the nation.

In addition, STUCO holds an Activity-A-Thon at Ritenour High to raise money for Missouri K.I.D.S. The school as well as community involvement provides not only a rewarding education but also a rewarding experience for RHS students.

Senior Citizens' Dinner

Student Council is involved in many community activities and services all year, but the one that has proven to be the most enjoyable is the Senior Citizens' Dinner. The students, as well as the senior citizens, really seem to enjoy themselves. The evening is filled with food and entertainment and the enjoyment and companionship that the students and the elders exchange with one another. It really gives the sponsors a warm feeling to see the love and comraderie that is shared between the two. The success of the dinner each year proves the theory that age is just a number.

Melaureus Changes Sponsor

Mrs. Wolfe did her best not to yell and scream and lose her patience, but training a staff, producing a yearbook, and learning to be a photographer often got the best of her. "The staff wanted to do well but often did not put forth the effort needed to achieve our goals. As a result, there are three 'major' goofs and we only have about one third of the writing in winning yearbooks. But there's always next year!" Hang in there, Mom!

The Rock of Ritenour KRSH FM .90

The Radio Station is a classroom. Each student has the same assignment: two local news items, two national, two international, one sports, and one human interest. Besides news and their regular programs, such as 'Life in the Big City' and 'Sports Talk', the rest of the day is Top 40 music. One of the amazing things about KRSH is that it is totally student-operated under the direction of Mr. Mitchell. Ritenour is one of the few schools that has a radio station. This year KRSH started a new program designed to send their DJ's to play at parties and weddings. The radio station has been in operation for nine years and with the new updated changes, it looks like they'll be around for a long time. KRSH FM .90 broadcasts every day from 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Pepperbox Makes A Comeback

Liz O'Farrell brings back school newspaper

After being out of commission for two years, the Pepperbox came back stronger than ever. The reason for this two-year slump was inadequate funding and no sponsor. As stated by Angela Brown, one of the editors-in-chief, "This is the first year we've had a newspaper out every month, and we're finally getting the funding that is needed for a proper school newspaper, especially for a school the size of Ritenour."

Pasquale Leone Hails From Italia

Pasquale Leone had to adjust, as anyone does moving to America, but now he has to go through the whole process again. One of the biggest adjustments was time. "The time is not divided as in Italy. Here it is one continuous day. It was strange to me. Like from 1:00-3:00 we eat lunch. Here people continue with their day."

Much of Pasquale's view of America came from television shows. Two popular shows are "Happy Days" and "Different Strokes". But Pasquale has learned that there is not that much different from Italy. Because of different environments, people just see things differently.

Perhaps the environments produce some of the different attitudes Pasquale observed. For example, in America, the family unit appears to be "looser. Everybody does his own thing. In Italy, a son would never talk back to an older family member." On the subject of pride in country, Pasquale noted that "Americans are more concerned about conquering than working together with other countries. They are idealistic. Italy is more realistic; we are a small country that must depend on other countries, so we cannot just stop trade or declare war on them." In religion in America there are many differences, not only in the variety offered, but in the activities. "In Italy," Pasquale explains, "the majority are Catholic. All of the young people go to church every Sunday and the young people do a lot of activities centered around the church. The priests are very involved with the young people." Finally, on attitudes toward politics, Pasquale believes Americans are more practical while Italians are "more involved. Everyone is always talking about political issues."

The most important thing Pasquale has discovered about himself is "I know more what my family means to me and my friends. I found my values tested and proved." Although happy and appreciative of his American parent, Mrs. Sherry O'Connell, he found that in American families, young people think they can do everything themselves. In Italy there is not as much permissiveness and things are different: "The family is always together. If there is a problem everybody discusses it, as well as friends (who are almost part of the family). Young people accept that they can get advice and still be in charge of their life. There is respect for age and experience." Pasquale felt that while he had many of the same freedoms, there was a different reaction. "It's just different in the household. In Italy if I wanted to go spend vacation with my friends, it was accepted. Here I can do what I want, but then I have to over-explain. It is a lack of trust."

What will Pasquale Leone miss about the States? A short list includes: Mexican food, American-Italian food, soooo many burgers, HUGE breakfasts, Chili. That covers the food. He also will miss the easy shopping at Northwest Plaza. He explains, "In Italy, everything is small shops spread all over town." Also, he says "things are more comfortable." Examples include "roads — easier to drive on, fewer curves," and the soda machines. In Italy to get a soda after school friends meet in bars to order food, soda, and play cards.

Now for one of the most important issues to teenagers: how does dating differ? Pasquale says there are only minor differences. "Guys are more romantic. The philosophy is if you want to just have fun, don't start a relationship, date around; but if you have established a relationship with someone you like, why change? He also thinks dating Italian teenagers talk more. "Both kind of talk about what's going on and share responsibility. Dating someone who is 'a good listener' is important." He feels American teenagers "base most reasons for change on physical attraction" and "Americans don't talk enough. When they do, it's probably too late."

When asked about heroes, Pasquale's answers reflected Italy's illustrious history and concerns. His top three choices were Mazzini, a politician, Dante Alighieri, and Michaelangelo. Why those three? "They were different. History is so involved in school and in discussions with friends and in travels through Italy. People like that, they changed an aspect of history gave Italy a name."

Pasquale says he would like to come back and vacation for a year in the States, visiting all fifty.

While we've made an impact on Pasquale Leone, he also has made an impact on us. He served in Student Council and in Leadership and was a member of the National Honor Society, all distinctive honors. Ciao, Pasquale.

Brilliance From Belgium

Last fall a very tall, slim, dark curly-haired young man boarded a plane in Belgium with the enthusiasm of a young child opening presents at Christmas. He was off to discover America for himself. He had read books, and friends and family members tried to tell him what he would find in America, but Jean Michalski did not listen; he wanted to see it first hand.

The long plane trip had to be uncomfortable for someone as active as Jean. He would much rather be out playing tennis than cooped up in a plane for ten hours.

When Jean first landed in New York, he was in a state of shock. Everyone in Belgium knows that Americans drive big cars, but when Jean came out of the airport and saw nothing but plush limousines from New York's fancy hotels, he could not believe his eyes. Jean, having never seen limousines before, said, "I knew the cars in America were big,they told me that, but this big?" Jean soon realized not all cars were this big and enjoyed his stay in New York before heading for his final destination, St. Louis.

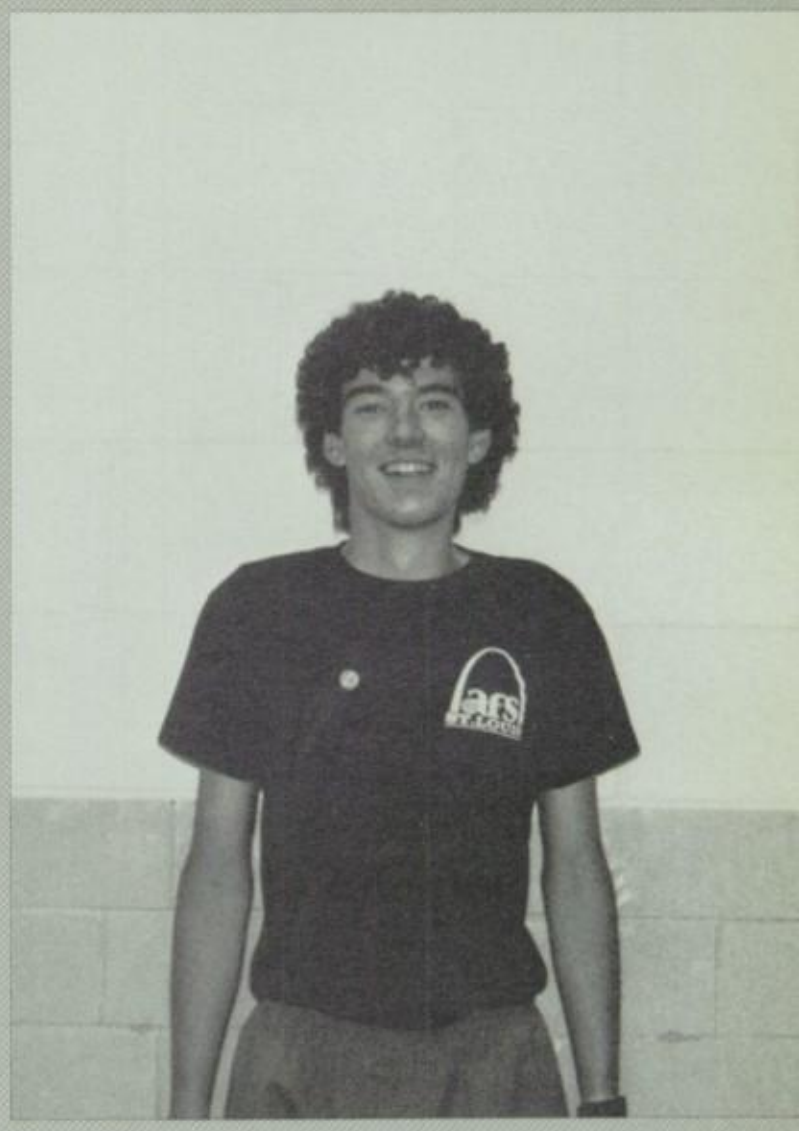
Outside of St. Louis airport, Jean had his second big shock. "St. Louis is hot!" The thermometer showed 97 degrees on the August day Jean arrived in St. Louis. According to Jean, around 82 degrees is the hottest it gets in Belgium. But Jean was not going to let a little heat affect his first day in his new home, and his first meeting with the Steeles, his host family. "The Steeles were very nice," Jean said as he reflected on his first day. They took him to a lovely restaurant and tried their very best to understand Jean's accent.

When Jean first arrived he had a hard time understanding English when it was spoken to him. Jean could read English with no problem, and he could better understand the Great Britain accent that was used in Belgium. But Americans spoke fast and lived at a fast pace that Jean was not quite used to. Jean soon discovered that in America families are not as close as they are in Belgium. Jean says that teenagers in America have much more independence and freedom than teenagers in Belgium.

Jean reflected that in America we make and spend twice as much money as the people of Belgium. Jean was alarmed when he exchanged his Belgium currency for U.S. dollars and got less back. "When I first arrived, I was scared to buy soda because it was so expensive." But Jean found it easy to adapt to the economic lifestyle of America. He believed he will have trouble adjusting to the slower economic lifestyle of Belgium when he returns.

Even though Jean really enjoyed living in America, he feels Americans are too patriotic; they only like to hear the American side of a story. "In Belgium, you might find pro-Khadafy or pro-Russian stories in the paper." He feels in Belgium they get the whole picture rather than one side.

Prior to departing St. Louis, Jean says he will really miss several things about Ritenour. One thing is teasing and kidding around with Mr. Hassinger during class. He really enjoyed being in Mr. Hassinger's class. The second thing Jean will really miss is the Steeles. Mrs. Steele was somewhat opposite of Jean's mother in Belgium. According to Jean, Mrs. Steele reared her children to be independent and free-thinking while his mother likes to hover over her children and a part of their every decision. The third thing Jean will miss is the computer programming class under Mr. Carekelas.



Jean has learned a lot while in America, not just the three R's, he has about people and different ways of life. Jean has also taught us a lot about life in Belgium and also about ourselves. Jean is clearly a young man with great potential. We wish him good luck in the future.

An Exciting Year For the German Club

The German Club is one of the most enjoyable clubs at Ritenour. Every year the club members do many activities. For example, at the pep rally in October members of the German Club wore costumes for the annual celebration of the OctoberFest, which is celebrated in Germany. To Americans the OctoberFest is known as Halloween. When the pep rally was over the club went to Pantera's Pizza and pigged out. But the fun didn't end there. Afterwards they went to Mr. and Mrs. Boswell's house for a Halloween party.

The OctoberFest is just one of the activities in which the club participates. Every two years the German Club goes to Germany where they try to see every part of the country. The students enjoy the trip, but most of all they learn about another culture. "I believe it's a good way for them to learn about Germany," says Mr. Boswell.

The German Club throws a lot of parties. At these parties there is always German food served: sausages, rolls, sauerkraut, and cheese, with German pastries served last for dessert. At these parties, students learn about German food. They try to sample as many German foods as possible.

Last, but not least, is the National Organization, a convention which is held every year in different parts of the United States. The German Club went to their first convention in 1983. The convention was held in Philadelphia. Philadelphia is known as the first place the Germans settled when they came to America. Ritenour German Club went on a tour with other German students. In 1984 the club went to the second convention which was held in Chicago. Their most recent convention was in 1985 in Kentucky at Berea, Kentucky, held at Berea College; it was four days of activities and relaxation. The historical setting was a perfect backdrop for the year's gathering of German students and teachers from across the country and from the Federal Republic of Germany.

Spanish Club Gives A Helping Hand To Earthquake Victims In Mexico City

The Spanish Club has many fun activities supported by candy bars. For the last several summers the club has traveled to Mexico City, always an enjoyable event. But this summer something is holding them back. Everyone knows that Mexico City suffered a major earthquake. People have been killed and homes have been destroyed. Visiting Mexico this summer wouldn't be good timing for sightseeing because many of the sights have been destroyed and rebuilding will be going on for some time.

Taking this into account, the Spanish Club has made a decision to send the money they sell from the candy bars to Mexico City to help out the people. The most exciting thing about this project is that the Spanish Club has many students who have joined this year and volunteered to help sell candy bars. "I am very excited about so many students joining the Spanish Club and selling these candy bars for the people in Mexico," said Mrs. Lowry during one of the meetings. "After selling the candy bars it still won't make a major difference but it will make some, which is better than none. And it will add to the other donations which are given to people from other organizations who care." The Spanish Club sent $800.00.

Sending the money to Mexico has not stopped the club from doing what they usually enjoy every year. For example, around December the club had a pig-out at Baskin & Robbins after closing hours. There the students are allowed to make any kind of ice-cream creation they want and as many times as they want. The fun starts at 8 p.m. and ends at 11:30 or sometime. The club also skate and eat out at Casa Gallardo's as much as possible.

Speech and Debate

The most active participants were involved in the Lincoln-Douglas on one-to-one style debate and Radio Broadcast Speaking. Speech and Debate traveled to tournaments at Francis Howell, Fox, Mehlville, Parkway Central, Ladue-Norton Watkin, along with other high schools in the St. Louis area.

Jackie Judie represented RHS in the American Legion Oratorical Contest. Jackie was the first entrant in the contest from Ritenour in several years.

Speech and Debate goals for the future are to recruit more team members and explore more dramatic events such as storytelling and duet acting. They also hope to host a Speech and Debate tournament at Ritenour.

Mending Problems

"I get by with a little help from my friends"

Again this year Dr. Kennedy has set up a group session for teenagers who have suffered from chemical abuse and are presently abstaining. Some have been to treatment centers for their problems. This problem-solving group is like an "in" door for people who think they are stuck "out" in the cold and have no one else to turn to except people who have been through it themselves. The group is set up to help get and give support to and from other students. The teenagers who are in the group show a lot of respect for each other and have their life back on track with a little extra help.

FBLA Gets Very Busy About Business

FBLA stands for Future Business Leaders Of America. The purpose for the club is to provide an integral part for secondary students in businesses and office education to develop vocational, career, and personal responsibilities. The club tries to get involved with community business. They visit offices on field trips.

On November the 15th to 17th the club went to a North Central Evaluation Conference where they participated in workshops on various leadership ideas, and informative business topics.

The goals of the FBLA Club are very important. Their specific goals are to develop competent, aggressive business leadership, by strengthening the confidence of students, create more interest and understanding of business enterprise, encourage members to contribute the improvement of home, business, and community. Also to develop character, encourage and practice money management, encourage sholarship and promote school loyalty.

This year there were 34 members in the club, under the direction of advisers Mrs. Kemper, Mrs. Byas and Mrs. L. Powell. Anyone can join from 7-12 grade. The junior high students are informed by business teachers in their school. There is a $5 fee for anyone who wants to become a member of the club. Meetings are held first and third Thursday every month.

Students Against Driving Drunk

Message remains the same: "Don't drink and drive!"

Sponsored by Mrs. Patterson and Mr. Dunavant, S.A.D.D. became more prominent than ever in '85-'86. Their Homecoming entry raised more than a few eyebrows. It consisted of a banner, a police car, a tow truck towing a driving drunk car that's been demolished in an accident, a hearse, and a graveyard scene. Members handed out stickers and wore S.A.D.D. T-shirts with the familiar emblem.

In November, they hosted a potluck supper but had only a few parents and teachers show up. At this meeting officers were installed: Michelle Daniels, President; Chrissy McCormick, Vice-President; Joan Lodes, Secretary; Colleen Colbert, Treasurer; Carmon Colvin, Historian.

At Christmas S.A.D.D. threw a sober Christmas party. January brought about "Contract for Life" signings and February showed pledges for a candlelight walk through St. Louis.

One of the Cardinal football players, a former abuser, held school assemblies and other speakers from local organizations met with the members. For the first time, there was also a S.A.D.D. awareness week.

S.A.D.D. raised about $500.00 in a tire roll sponsored by Western Auto. Members issued "Contracts for Life" to students as well as a questionaire designed to pinpoint specific Ritenour needs. The group also participated in the annual Health fair held at Ritenour.

Flag Corps: A Plus For Ritenour

Flag Corps is a small group of girls attached to the marching band that proudly displays the colors of Ritenour High.

Maneuvering flags can be a heavy, arm-wearying job, but Flag Corps makes it look easy. A lot of hours goes into each performance.

Flag Corps performs at every home football game. They accompanied the Marching Band and Rhythmettes to the middle schools and they performed with those same groups at the St. Patrick's Day parade where they helped capture first place.

This year Flag Corps also performed at one of the basketball games. Accompanied by the Rhythmettes, they displayed a routine to the tune of "Party All the Time."

Unknown But Worthwhile International Club

One of RHS's most helpful organizations is not the most popular one. The International Club is a group organized to help student immigrants from foreign countries adjust to the United States and, moreover, to RHS. The group helps students who will not be going back to their native land. Most of them have trouble understanding English and are too shy to ask for help and participate in school activities.

"We get them involved," explained Mrs. Condra, sponsor. "We get them to go to basketball games, and all activities."

They use a mentor system. Each immigrant student is assigned to a student of American birth. He is to help the immigrating student in times of need; such as understanding homework, with family problems, and in general to become his best friend.

If you want to learn about other countries and different cultures, this is the perfect club. This was the group's fifth year.

Orchestra is one of the outstanding performing groups at Ritenour. In their long hours of practice, they prepare music for their concerts, festivals, and assemblies. Orchestra prepares music for the fall and Christmas concerts performed at school. They played at Jamestown Mall during the Christmas month. As well as entertaining on campus, Orchestra performs in the All-District Orchestra Concert in April, and the All-Suburban Music Festival in the Spring, and the outdoor concert in May.

With the money they make from their various fund-raisers, Orchestra takes a trip in the Spring. The trip this year was to Chicago, where the members enjoyed both classical and novel entertainment. There were even rumors of some gangsters that accompanied them for protection.

Some of Mrs. Hainz's more promising players include Eric Vorst, Kelly Meredith, Kathleen Vogel, Sharon Ziegler, and Cora Crocker.

Kathleen-An Outstanding Player

Kathleen Vogel has proven to be outstanding in more than one area. She was a major help in Orchestra as she has served as secretary for three years and treasurer for one year. "She is very well organized and very dependable," commented Mrs. Hainz.

Kathleen participated in the Solo and Ensemble Festival for three years. She has also been the lead in the school musical for the last three years, starring in "Brigadoon", "How to Succeed in Business", and "Sugar" as a member of Women's Chorus.

Kathleen is a member of the National Honor Society and was a Rhythmette for two years. Mrs. Haiz summed it up, "Kathleen is not only an asset to Orchestra but to Ritenour High School as well as the community."

Crediting Kathleen for her hard work, Mrs. Hainz added, "Kathleen will be missed very much. She will be a success in her career because she is a hard worker and a "go-getter". I'm sure she will go far."

Choir Creates Confidence

Ritenour's Acapella Choir performed at several St. Louis area functions this year, including the Rotary Club, the Mansion House, and Ritenour night at the Steamer's game. Concerts included the traditional Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts. The musical, well-received by all, was "Sugar", a comedy take-off from the Broadway hit, "Some Like It Hot." The Acapella Choir, under the direction of Allan Byers, produces not only the best of singers, but people who are very strong, self-confident, and outgoing.

Senior Focus

Lemartt Holman, II, Stands Apart

Lemartt Holman, II, is a student respected by teachers and students alike. He seems to constantly be in the spotlight, receiving honors both on and off campus.

The end of his Junior year was highlighted by winning the Teen Talent contest at the Fox theatre, no small feat to compete against top acts from many area high schools.

He is a member of Student Council and is President of Choir. This year, he sang lead in the musical, "Sugar".

How did this local talent get started? Lemartt credits his sisters. "My sisters took piano lessons and I listened to them play and then I played what I heard. As I played, I started singing."

Lemartt writes, as well as sings, and plays the piano. In singing and arranging he has received help from Mr. Byers and Mr. Hirst. He is trying to develop his own writing style but admits he listens to Lionel Ritchey and Phil Collins for inspiration.

This summer Lemartt will be working with Cervantes and Contemporary Productions to try and publish his music. In the fall it's off to the University of Missouri at Kansas City where he plans to major in music — what else?

One of the most common, yet uncommon, comments heard about Lemartt is that he is so modest, so gifted, yet so well-liked. The three do not often appear together. Lemartt says it's easy not to get a big head. "I have to keep in touch with reality. A lot of people that are really good in just one area sort of live in a fantasy world. There's a lot of people out there doing the same thing. It's going to take a lot of hard work to get where I want. I'm just realistic."

Rhythettes Keep Ritenour Proud

The '85-'86 Rhythmettes entertained the crowds at the home football and basketball games. In addition to performing at home, some of the highlights of the year included participating in the grand opening of Union Station and performing at two of the St. Louis Cardinals Football games. It was a year of accomplishments: first place in the St. Louis St. Patrick's Day Parade, second place in the Lindbergh Competition, two firsts in divisions of the Miss Missouri Festival, and second place in the State Competition. To top off this year of accomplishments, five seniors performed at the Fox Theatre for the St. Louis Teen Talent Night and for the division champs, the St. Louis Blues. All of these feats took a lot of practice and hard work.

The work started in the summer with camp in Springfield, Missouri. Dedication and hard work makes results, as this year's squad proves. What makes such hard work and practice worthwhile? The answer came easily: "Our squad wants to be the best we can be. It's in our hearts to accomplish our goals, so when we practice ten hours a week, we feel that it is worthwhile. All of the hard work pays off when we hear from faculty and students that they were proud of our performance. Making our school proud makes us proud," stated Debbie Gipson, Captain.

Cheerleaders Show Their Spirit, Come Rain or Shine . . .

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad: Miki Gisi, Maria Sutter, Michelle Cassler, Amy Wagoner, Jenny Horrell, Junie Luther, Rhonda Kirkpatrick, Tracy Baker, Kim Watts, Jill Linson, Lydia Pye, and Dodie Miller.

Cheerleaders are the girls you see cheering whole-heartedly at games. Cheerleaders are not always appreciated. Many long hours are put into learning cheers and different ways of raising spirit.

Practice for Cheerleaders begins at tryouts at the end of March for the next year. Squads are announced at the beginning of April. The girls start practice for a camp routine with less hours of rehearsing. The results of the endless practices are sore throats, aching bones, and a mountain of school spirit.

Varsity and Junior Varsity attended camp at Southwest Missouri University during the hot month of July. Both squads came home with Superior ribbons and a Spirit Stick. The Freshman squad also attends cheerleading camp. They brought home a lot of new ideas and much more spirit.

Throughout the year the squads cheer for their teams in good or bad weather. Their spirit is always showing.

Huskies Plagued by Field Problems

The Ritenour Varsity Football team was defeated in every contest except for their 20-10 victory over Hazelwood West which the coaches named "the toilet bowl." The team had a severe handicap during the 1985 season because of the renovation of Moore Field. The team was forced to practice at Ritenour Middle School, which meant they had to get on a bus after school, ride to Ritenour Middle, practice and be back at Ritenour High by dusk. The renovation also meant that the team did not have a home field until their eighth game, Homecoming, which was against Normandy; Normandy won 12-0.

New Coaches Bring New Ideas

Ed Harris and Al Hinton, formerly coaches for Kennedy High School, became coaches for Ritenour after head football coach Ron Tegerdine called and asked for their assistance in coaching. Ed Harris coached varsity and Al Hinton coached the sophomore team. The new coaches brought many new plays and training techniques. The coaches teach at Parkway South High School.

Karl Wooten

Karl Wooten, the football MVP, rushed for 615 yards during the '85-'86 season. Averaging 70 yards rushing per game, Karl says that the highlight of his career was rushing over 100 yards against Hazelwood West.

Karl's plans for after high school include attending college on a scholarship but he adds he will not rely on football in case it doesn't work out.

Karl also participates in baseball and says, "They were the first sports I was introduced to."

Sophomores Set Win Record

The Sophomore Football team this year won four of its ten games; a feat that has not been accomplished by any Ritenour football team in the past five years. Out of the team's eight conference games, they won four; that gave the team a .500 record in conference.

The Freshmen Football team, even though plagued with injuries, had a very productive year thanks to a lot of very talented players. Helping them out through the season was their outstanding defense. Regular starters on the defensive line were John Drysdale, Bill Tracy, and Sydney Gates. Most valuable player for both offense and defense was Reggie Blackwell.

Once Again Huskies Make State; Achieve 8th Place in Sectionals

Out of all Missouri high school cross country teams only 16 of them can make it to state, and again this year the Huskies numbered among the top 16. Before they could get to state they had to place within the top four of the district competition. The Huskies did an excellent job by placing third. Helping them get to state were the runners noted as players of the week: Senior John Grob (selected twice), Sophomores Ken Fertitta, Dave Kilstrom, Pat Sienkiewicz, and Freshman Tony Funner (selected three times).

Leading the Huskies into victory was the Missouri Class 4A Coach of the Year, Mr. Bill Wirtz. He was selected by the Missouri Track and Cross Country Coaches' Association. Assisting Wirtz in coaching the running Huskies was Mr. Abrams from Ritenour Middle.

Grob Noted For Athletics, Academics

Picked for Cross Country Senior Focus was John Grob. He was picked for his athletic abilities as well as his academic abilities. John is a three year varsity letterman and has been captain of the team for two years. John has not run in any marathons but plans to in the near future. He said one attraction of cross country is the "scenery is more than the same lines around a track." When he was a freshman, he broke the two-mile record at 11:21.

John's future plans are to go to Rolla and compete on their Cross Country and indoor/outdoor track teams. He stated, "I would like to break at least one record and get a degree in engineering."

Slow Start Frustrates Volleyball

Coming back from a 0-6 record at mid-season, the Varsity Volleyball Huskies wound up a tough season with a 7-7 record. Mrs. Doney coached the players to perform as a team; the payoff was the six-game winning streak that closed the season.

At the post-season banquet, Lisa Wilson captured Most Valuable Player and Best Server. Best Offensive Player, Most Consistent Server, and Best Setter was grabbed by Linda Fussner, the last award being shared with Kim Franz. Awarded to Lisa Wilkinson were Best Defensive Player and Best Dinks trophies. Most Improved Player was Kelly Macke who also received Best Service Reception award. Other awards given included: Most Hustle — Erica Crenshaw; Best Hitter — Kim Grice; Sheila Byrd; Most Team Spirit — Sheila Byrd, Erika Crenshaw; Biggest Hotdog — Sheila Byrd, Patti Partl; Best Blocker — Jill Williams, Patti Partl.

The Junior Varsity team, like the Varsity, got off to a rough start. They, too, managed to pick up and finish the season with a five win, nine loss record. One outstanding accomplishment for the J.V. team was placing first in the Ritenour tournament.

On and off the team, Kim Franz demonstrated her leadership ability. She was co-captain of the Varsity team, along with Kim Franz, helping lead the Huskies to a 7-7 season. A distinguishing award earned her senior year was for "Best Setter."

Coach Doney commented that Kim was always "dependable and an extremely hard worker." Kim has played volleyball at Ritenour for three years.

Senior Focus

Lisa Wilkinson, dubbed by Coach Doney as "an outstanding competitor," captured two big awards her senior year as co-captain of the Varsity Volleyball Huskies. She was named Honorable Mention on the Suburban North All-Conference Team and won a trophy for "Best Defensive Player." As a junior, Lisa captured the trophy for the player with the "Most Hustle." Lisa has played four years.

Huskies Beat McCleur N.— First in 11 Yrs.

Even though the 1985 Varsity soccer team did not have its best season, there were still special rewards. The highlight of the season was the win against McCluer North, 4-3, for the first time in eleven years.

Coach Tusinski said, "The team was better than last year's because of more experienced seniors and a steady goalkeeper; this helped solidify the defense." The team played their best games against McCluer North, Prep North, and Hazelwo East. Although they had a good fense, defense was better.

The team's starters were: Bri Bickel, Joe Dody, Kirk Hoffman, D Judson, and Mike Judson. Play nominated as "players of the wee were: Mike Bresnahan, Joe Do Don Judson, Mike Judson, Greg M tinez, and Rob Nenninger. The se son ended with an 8-11-2 record.

Judson Makes Mark

Don Judson was the outstanding senior of the 1985 Varsity Soccer Team. Don was chosen First Team All-Conference both his junior and senior year. He was captain as a junior and senior, and Honorable Mention All-Metro MVP 1985.

Don had the leadership and dedication to be successful in school and the soccer program. Coach Tusinski said, "Don is a dedicated individual who works hard with plenty of desire and self-motivation."

Don feels that his greatest achievement was when he helped bring the team to the first victory in eleven years against McCluer North by scoring two of the four goals.

His positions were sweeperback and mid-fielder and, in his opinion, defense was where their strengths were. Don plans to attend the University of Missouri, St. Louis, where he will try out for the soccer team.

Team Effort is the Key in J.V.

The Junior Varsity Soccer team wound up their season with a 9-11 record. Although disappointed, team members felt they had worked as a team. Tony Porter commented, "The team worked well together". Jay Wilkinson added, "It was all a team effort and we won as a team and we lost as a team."

Freshmen Wind Up With 6-2 Record

With a more talented team than last year, the freshmen wound their winning season up with 6 wins, 2 losses. Mr. Hirst said, "They had good players on both offense and defense." The team played their best game against Hazelwood West, although they lost in overtime 2-1. The top three players were Greg Martinez, Tom Waller, and Jimmy Williams.

Tennis Anyone?

In Girls Tennis, doubles partners, Michelle Hittner and Sally Abel were undefeated in non-tournament play. In the McCluer North doubles and the league tournaments, the team took a fourth place finish. The team finished their season with a league record of 3-4 and an overall record of 6-8. "Some of the players on the team have improved and we should make it as far as we did last year," declared Mr. Terry Doering, the girls' coach. The key players throughout the season were Sally Abel and Michelle Hittner — the first doubles team; Denise Scott — the second singles player, and Dena Crocker — the fourth singles player.

Sally Abel Receives All-Conference Honors

Because of her outstanding efforts, Sally Abel has been chosen by the girls' tennis coach, Terry Doering, as the MVP. Sally has been playing tennis for three years and says this is her best year yet. "Having Michelle as a partner made it an incredible season." In Sally's eyes, the toughest team was Hazelwood East. "Michelle Hittner and I were going into the match undefeated in league, as were they. We won first set 7-6, they won 2nd set 6-7 and we won 3rd, 6-4." She started out this season with high hopes and high goals, she received the second team all conference honors, and was voted the MVP. "Michelle and I beat everybody in the conference. We should have taken 1st but receiving 2nd was better than nothing." When asked if she wanted anything else mentioned, she asked us to "Just let the people know that Michelle Hittner was just as much a part of us winning as I was. We were a team and we won and lost together."

Success For Missouri K.I.D.S. In Activity-A-Thon

Activity-A-Thon was a special event designed to wear teenagers out, raise funds for Missouri K.I.D.S., and generate a lot of fun.

It is an all-night affair. After collecting sponsors, students have to be involved in activities from 8:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. Such activities included volleyball, basketball, swimming, card games, soccer, listening to tapes, eating pizza, and guzzling soda.

It was a success for Missouri K.I.D.S. and a successfully fun night for everyone participating.

Leadership Plus Experience = A Winner!

According to Coach Goodman, Larry Williams "provided the leadership and experience in leading Varsity to an 18-8 record during his Senior year." Williams claims his success didn't just happen: "I credit a lot of it from Coach and family members. My brother was always there to help me out; he was a best friend and a brother."

Williams has started all four years and has been an all-conference player for four years. He was voted Most Valuable Player in the Suburban North Conference and co-captained the Huskies during his Senior year. Coach Goodman says Williams possesses "outstanding leadership qualities." Williams summed up his ability to lead as a combination of skill and experience. "A lot of guys know I've been there the three years prior to this. I know what it takes; I have a knowledge of the game. I was motivated because I knew what type of team we would have this year."

William's only disappointments in the last four years have been not defeating Pattonville and not taking the Suburban North title.

He plans to pursue basketball at college. If he chooses a college in the state, he would like to play at St. Louis University or at Southwest Missouri State.

What is Larry Williams taking with him? He verbalized the importance of his experience here: "During the four years I have played here, I have learned to be a smarter ball player; I have learned to develop the game mentally."

The Sophomore Huskie Boys' Basketball team performed outstandingly during their '85-'86 season. Winding up with a record of 16-5, it seemed as though they could do little wrong.

Leading the team was Emmett Wade. He led the team in both scoring and in rebounds. He averaged 18 points per game. His rebounding record for the season was a whopping 143.

Obviously the team worked hard and developed their talents under the coaching of Mr. Cunningham. Their strong point was not in individual achievements but in working as a team. Mr. Cunningham summed it up: "In the clutch this team would come through and win."

Freshmen Huskies Set Winning Record

The Freshmen Huskies wowed the stat books by setting a 14 win-4 loss record. According to Coach Venn, the key was that they were "very quick. They played well as a team, especially on defense and were good jumpers. The chemistry was excellent."

Contributing to the victorious season was Larry Cooper, voted Most Valuable Player. He was the team's leading scorer averaging 15 points per game, and the leading rebounder with 106.

Most Improved Players were Reggie Blackwell and Darren Warren. Most Potential were John Drysdale and Earl Jenkins.

Only the Pain of Hard Work Can Prevent the Agony of Defeat

This year, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team, comprised of some very talented young ladies, made great strides. With a season record of 11 wins, 15 losses, and conference of four wins, four losses, the girls feel they had a pretty successful season.

The MVP of the team is junior Andrea Gaines who was first in total points with 329, rebounds with 238, 130 field goals made, field goal percentage of 44, second in free throws with 69, and third in steals with 31.

Lisa Wilson, who won the Best Offensive Award recalls the game against Hazelwood East, which she feels was the best game of the season. "With ten seconds left in the game, we were down by three points and we made two more points, but we needed two more to win. With five seconds left, one of our players stole the ball and made the basket, and we won by one point!"

With lots of fast-paced action, hard work, talented young ladies, and the help of their dedicated coach, Mr. Tegerdine, the season turned out to be a rewarding one.

Sharon Lawson: A Senior on the Move

For Girls' Basketball we focus on Sharon Lawson, a young lady who achieved many accomplishments and made many contributions to the team. Sharon was first in assists with 91, second in steals with 41, third in total points with 168, and third in free throws made with 30.

Having been team leader, co-captain, and honorable mention for two years, all-conference, and a starter for Varsity basketball for the past three years, Sharon has a lot to be proud of. She's a hardworking, dedicated, self-motivated young lady who played within her abilities. With someone of her quality always willing to help out, it's no wonder that the girls' team had a successful season.

J.V. Basketball

The Girls' J.V. Basketball team was very successful this year. With the help of some very talented young ladies, they came out on top with a record of nine wins, seven losses for the season and five wins, three losses for conference.

The Most Valuable Player was Kim Grice who was first in total points with 157, second in rebounds with 75 and second in steals with 38 getaways. The Most Improved Player was Robin McFarland, a 6' sophomore who was third in rebounds with 72 and first in blocks with 11.

These lady Huskies, with the help of their teammates, brought the season to an exciting close.

The Girls' Freshman Basketball season went real well with their best game a shut-out against Hazelwood East, 51-0. Voted M.V.P.'s of the team were Barbara Gaines and Lisa Keller. The Freshman girls never gave up no matter what; they practiced hard during the season and it paid off.

Best players included Barbara Gaines, Sheila Kraatz, Vickey Ragon, Lisa Keller, and Patti Partl until she was injured and had to be replaced.

The team's record was 13-5, earning them a second place in the 4A district just under McCluer North.

Ritenour's Shepard Leads Team to State

After a promising four and two start, the Huskies' hopes diminished after losing their remaining dual meets. The team ended its season with a 4-5-1 record. Though this might not sound too impressive, the team qualified everyone for Sectionals, which was predicted by Coach Shepard Pittman. The Huskies also sent five to State, of whom only two were seniors.

The influential leadership of the seniors was greatly appreciated. The seniors on the '85-'86 team were Tom Luther, 105; Matt Sienkiewicz, 155; Appolos Harris, 175; and Ben Oliver, Heavyweight. The team will miss the outgoing seniors who held four varsity positions but should be able to compensate for the absence next year. The team is sprouting with youth, and they should be coming on strong in the near future.

Ben Oliver Named Senior M.V.P.

After a white-hot start, the Huskies started to dwindle, except for a few Huskie grapplers, one of whom was Ben Oliver, heavyweight. In his senior year at Ritenour, Ben had 23 pins, taking first in Francis Howell Quad, second in Riverview Tournament, and third in Ritenour Tournament.

"Ben worked very hard during his final year at Ritenour. He went through several changes physically and mentally. Physically, Ben lost close to sixty pounds. Mentally, he matured into a fine young man," boasted Coach Pittman.

Ben started his weight loss in football as an offensive lineman weighing close to 330 pounds and cutting down to a trim 270 pounds. "Ben showed his leadership abilities all season," commented one of his fellow wrestlers. With no promising replacement in sight, Ben will be missed next year.

Swimming Huskies Qualify for All-Conference

This year the Swimming Huskies finished off their winning season with a 10-4-1 record, which enabled them to qualify for the All-Conference Tournament. At the tournament the team of Tom Clyne, Miles Spencer, Charles Green, and Chris Sisney placed third in the 400-meter freestyle relay. In the 200-medley relay, Sean Walsh, Mark Guvernator, Kevin Hennkens, and Charles Green took sixth. In the 500-meter freestyle Miles Spencer took fifth place and Tom Clyne placed 11th; in the 200-meter freestyle they placed seventh and tenth.

Chris Sisney received 12th place in the 100-meter freestyle, Placing sixth in the 100-meter butterfly and 12th place in the 500-meter freestyle went to Tony Carter. Charles Green took ninth place in the 50-meter freestyle. Ninth place in the backstroke was taken by Sean Walsh. In both individual medley and backstroke, Kevin Hennkens placed 11th. Mark Guvernator placed ninth in the breaststroke and an outstanding first place in diving. Earning a 12th place in diving was Tony Porter.

Spencer Picked For Determination and Achievement During Four Dedicated Yrs.

The senior picked for the Swimming Senior Focus is Miles Spencer. Miles is captain of the swim team and took fifth in the 500 freestyle and seventh in the 200 freestyle in Conference.

Coach Gregory picked Miles because of the "outstanding improvement since his freshman year and his hard work and determination."

Miles also often provided the encouragement and experience to help other team members.

Baseball: District 2n

Mr. Tusinski, Varsity Baseball Coach, said that the weakness this year for the team was the hitting. Coach Tusinski reported that they had trouble with "the ability to find the holes in defense. This year, only three guys hit over 300!" Although the batting could have used improving, the strengths were the pitching, the solid defense, and the base running. Aside from their weaknesses, Ritenour's Baseball team came in second place within the league and took second place in District.

Mike Bresnahan has been playing for Ritenour for three years and has been playing the game for ten. Mike agrees with his coach in that

Ken Thomas Wins All-Conference Honors; Leads in Hits, Runs, Batting, Stolen B's

Kenny Thomas, chosen by Coach Tusinski for Senior Focus, had a great year as far as baseball goes. Not only was he picked as outstanding senior player but he received All-Conference honors. Coach Tusinski said, "Kenny led the team in hits, runs scored, stolen bases, and batting average. Kenny is well-developed in the field of baseball. He did exceptionally well this year. His batting average was the highest on the team with an average of .425. Hopefully, Kenny will use his talents and abilities further than just a school activity and play ball a little longer."

Sophomores Come In Second

This year not only did the Varsity team come in second place, but the Junior Varsity followed suit. Unlike the Varsity, the hitting game of the Junior Varsity was one of their strong points. Randy White commented, "Last year was a better all-around team, but the hitting helped our team this year." Randy, one of the team's pitchers, has played baseball for 11 years. His record for this season was 5-2. He has played for Ritenour for two years. His best game of the season was against Riverview where he pitched 16 straight strikeouts.

The Dating Game: Alive And Well In Ritenour Hallways

Although it isn't exactly a sport, it's certainly a game. What is "it"? Well, you know, the boy-girl flirting game. Where a girl flatters a boy's ego and a boy whispers, literally, "nothings" in girls' ears or in notes.

But it's a universal sport among teenagers; one of the most exciting and fun aspects of high school.

League Conference—5th Conference — 5th place

District — 3rd place

Sectional — qualified five girls in six events for State

Track begins with the "fabulous five." The fabulous five consists of Hermanette Homes, Alisha Rooks, Nikki Tillis, Rhonda Quinn, and Michele Parker. The five combined for 64 points and gave the Lady Huskies a good chance to impress some people at the sectional meet in Rolla.

Concerning the team as a whole. Some teams are referred to as the "Cadillacs" of their league, but the Ritenour Girls' Track Team is proving that bigger does not always mean better. The "Volkswagen" of the Class 4A girls' track scene is proving that economy models can pay rich dividends. The Lady Huskies squad finished an impressive third at the girls' district track meet at Pattonville with only five athletes.

Awards went to the following team members: Michele Parker, Most Valuable; Alsiha Rooks, Excellence — Track; Michele Parker, Excellence — Field; Nikki Tillis, Most Improved; Rachelle Gallinal, M & M Queen of Sales.

Earning Varsity Letters were: Hermanette Holmes, Michele Parker, fourth year; Kelly Nelson, Alisha Rooks, third year; Sharonda Blount, Tracy Jennings, Robin Roberts, Nikki Tillis, Pat Williams, second year; Jewell Brassell, Michelle Butler, Rachelle Gallinal, Cheryl Hall, Wendy Huff, Traynette Jenkins, Renee Mack, Tricia Masek, Rhonda Quinn. Managers were Erika Crenshaw and Jennifer Hudson.

Rachelle Gallinal placed third in Shot and Discus at conference.

Alisha Rooks set a new school record in the 800 meter with a time of 2:20.4 and in the 400 meter with a time clocked at 58.09

Holmes, Parker — #1

Responsible, determined, and dedicated are words that describe two outstanding athletes. Michele Parker, who is co-captain of the track team, and Hermanette Holmes, co-captain, have been with the Running Huskies for four years.

Hermanette consistently finished first and/or second in the 100 and 200 meter dashes all year. She also placed in the invitationals in both events. She anchored the two relay teams which qualified for state.

Michelle was awarded Most Valuable team member for two years and the Excellence in Field trophy. She also holds both school records for the long and triple jumps. Michele finished fourth in State this year.

Sophomore Robby Carter Proves A True Leader

Sophomore Robby Carter led the Golfing Huskies to a winning 10-7 record! Rob was the team's number one player all year, partly because of his enthusiasm, which infected the entire team with the desire to work harder.

"He played within his limitations," stated Coach Doering, "and he worked and practiced hard."

Robby's highest achievement was a second place finish in the Suburban North Golf Tournament. Averaging 39 strokes per game, Robby stayed in front of the team.

How does success feel? "It's a privilege," says Robby, "but it puts more pressure on me to perform better, or people will think the second place finish was a fluke."

Following an excellent regular season, Robby didn't do exceptionally well in District. He finished out of the top four, thus eliminating him from State competition.

McCoy, Rodgers

Terrence McCoy, co-captain of the Track and Field Huskies, is a three-year Varsity Letterman. During his three years he has competed in nine events. His best long jump is the seventh best in Ritenour history.

Terrence also recorded fifth best time in the school's history in the 800-meter relay, as well as placing ninth in history for the 1600-meter relay.

Anthony Rodgers, the other half of the captain of the Running Huskies, is a two-year Varsity Letterman. He competed in six events. Along with McCoy, Anthony placed fifth and ninth in the school's history for the 800-meter relay and the 100-meter relay, respectively.

Anthony has also earned a place in Ritenour's history with the seventh fastest time for the 400-meter individual event.

Concerning both McCoy and Rodgers, Coach Wirtz stated, "Both are very coachable and dedicated to becoming their best. They work well with others and are always willing to help."

With the help of some very talented young men, the Frosh Boys' Track Team was very victorious this season. With a record of 10-1 overall and 8-0 in conference, it's obvious that they were hard at work all season.

1. Earl Jenkins leaps to victory. 2. Steve Howard hurdles to the finish line. 3. Running Huskies stay in the lead.

1. Michelle Meyer scores an awesome goal. 2. Michelle gets congratulated after her goal. 3. Sharon Lawson uses her defensive abilities to get past two opposing players.

Senior Focus

Sharon Lawson Makes All-Conference 3 Yrs.

Sharon Lawson has had many accomplishments in her four years at Ritenour Senior High. She was first team All-Conference for three years, and she was picked for North All-Star team.

Sharon was also elected Scholar Athlete for her contributions to Basketball, Softball, Soccer (where she has played every position except goalie) and for her high g.p.a. She has missed only one soccer practice in four years.

Coach Kehm sums up, "Sharon always gives 150%. She understands the tactics of the game and is very competitive."

Playing Together At Ritenour High

1. Tim Corey hustles the ball toward Ft. Zumwalt's goal. 2. Tommy Luther fights off a pin by Riverview. 3. Ritenour vs. Ritenour on the practice scrimmage line. 4. Ritenour leads the pack in cross country. 5. A Ritenour player takes a last second desperation shot. 6. Mona Fuchs concentrates and waits for her opponent's next serve. 7. Chris Langdon goes for a takedown against a Riverview opponent.

Bye-Bye Boxermans

RHS said good-bye to more than its beloved seniors at the end of the 85-86 school year. It was the farewell year to two unforgettable teachers who had been with the district since 1955. The Boxerman brothers, Burt and Larry, retired from the Ritenour School District but not from work.

Dr. Larry Boxerman is not sure exactly what he wants to do, but he knows he wants to do something related to government research. He was unhappy with the lack of interest students showed toward learning. While discussing his retirement, Boxerman confessed he was "burned out and did not enjoy teaching unmotivated students."

Dr. Burton Boxerman, on the other hand, plans to continue teaching but on the college level. He felt he needed a change of scenery because he had taught on the high school level long enough.

Both Boxermans would like students to remember them as someone who taught them something positive and useful in life.

Clinic Offers Refuge

The caring, safe haven known as the clinic provides refuge to many students and sometimes faculty members. In a slow day Mrs. Dorothy Lewis and Mrs. Mary Ann Probst, the staff nurses, see at least sixty students between them. Mondays seem to be the worst because people just don't want to get started on a Monday, but from the incredible figures, one can safely assume most days are "the worst". In fact, the unbelievable but accurate number of students who visited the clinic during February is a staggering 821 girls and 843 boys (1664 total) paid the nurses a call. With massive numbers of students visiting the clinic, one wonders how the nurses can be so patient and understanding, especially when better than half of the visits are unnecessary. Stating that the job requires a lot of patience (no pun intended), Prost, the boys' nurse, says that regardless of the excuse, many students may have a need at that time which may not even be physical, maybe they just need someone to talk to. Do not get the wrong impression; they have restrictions for those "clinic abusers". In fact the perpetrator is black-listed and can't visit the clinic without permission from a principal. But students who really need to visit the clinic should not hesitate. Even if the reason is not illness-related but legetimate, such as pants ripped from front to back or infected self-pierced ears, (two real cases). Other unusual requests included handling labor pains and pulling a permanent tooth. So even if the problem is just a headache or stomach ache, it will be treated with the same amount of care and attention as labor pains. The nurses both state that there is a lot expected of them and that even some parents come to them before going to a doctor.

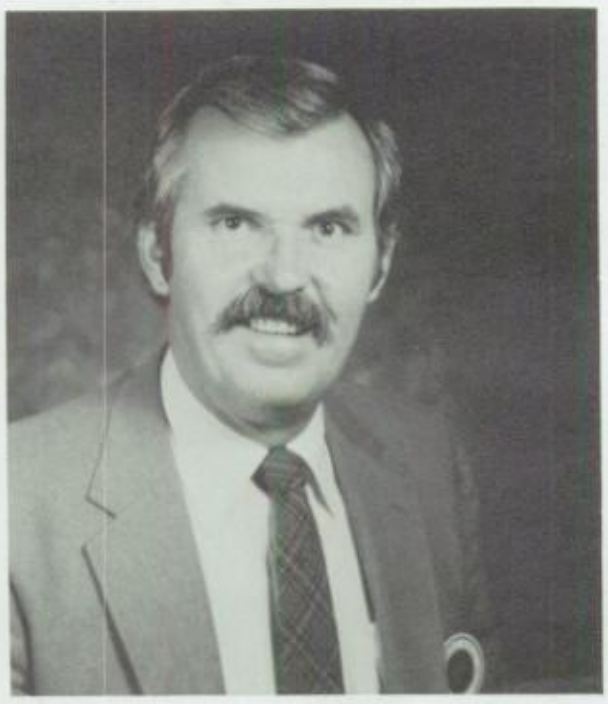
Brenda Skillman, Assistant Principal

Principals Are People Too

The "wardens" of Ritenour, as the administrative principals are sometimes referred to, are falsely labeled. All seem to love their occupations, but dealing with uncooperative teenagers could drive anyone stir crazy. Everyone has bad days, but when you're dealing with students who are having bad days and playing the bad guy, how can you appear nice? Despite the rigors of being a principal, they do have good days and the capacity to be very nice; they show it frequently. Whether the students will acknowledge it or not, the principals are hardworking people who do their job with pride and find it rewarding. So the next time you see one, smile . . . remember, principals are people, too.

Russell Stokes, Assistant Principal, Activities Director

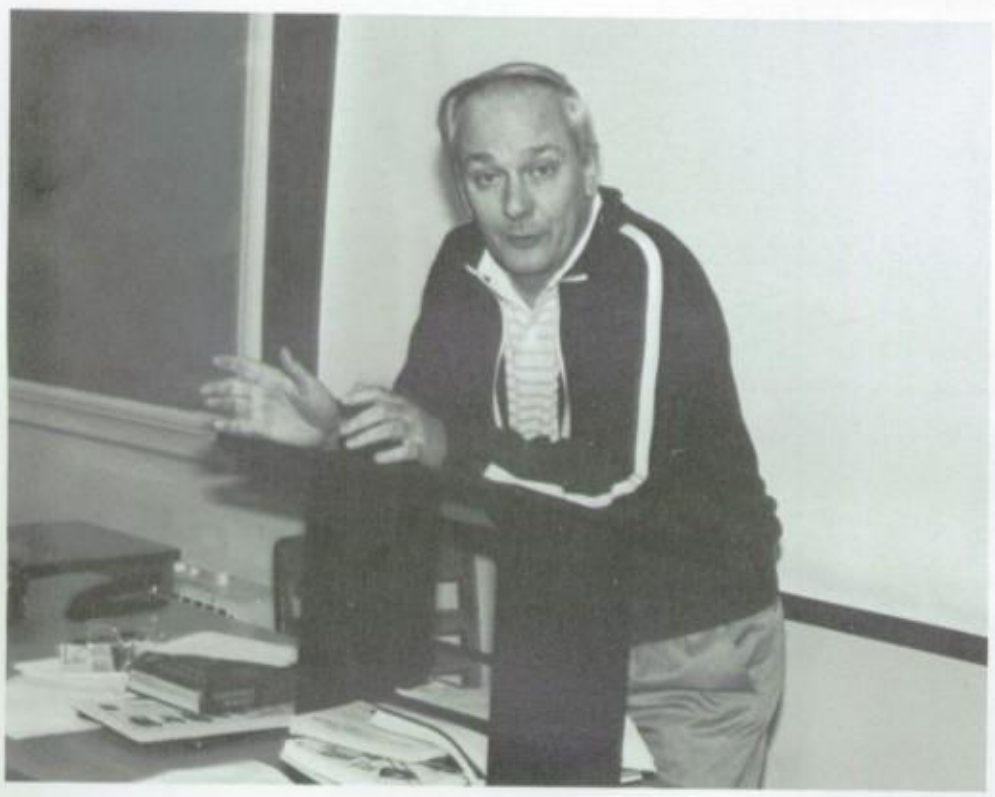


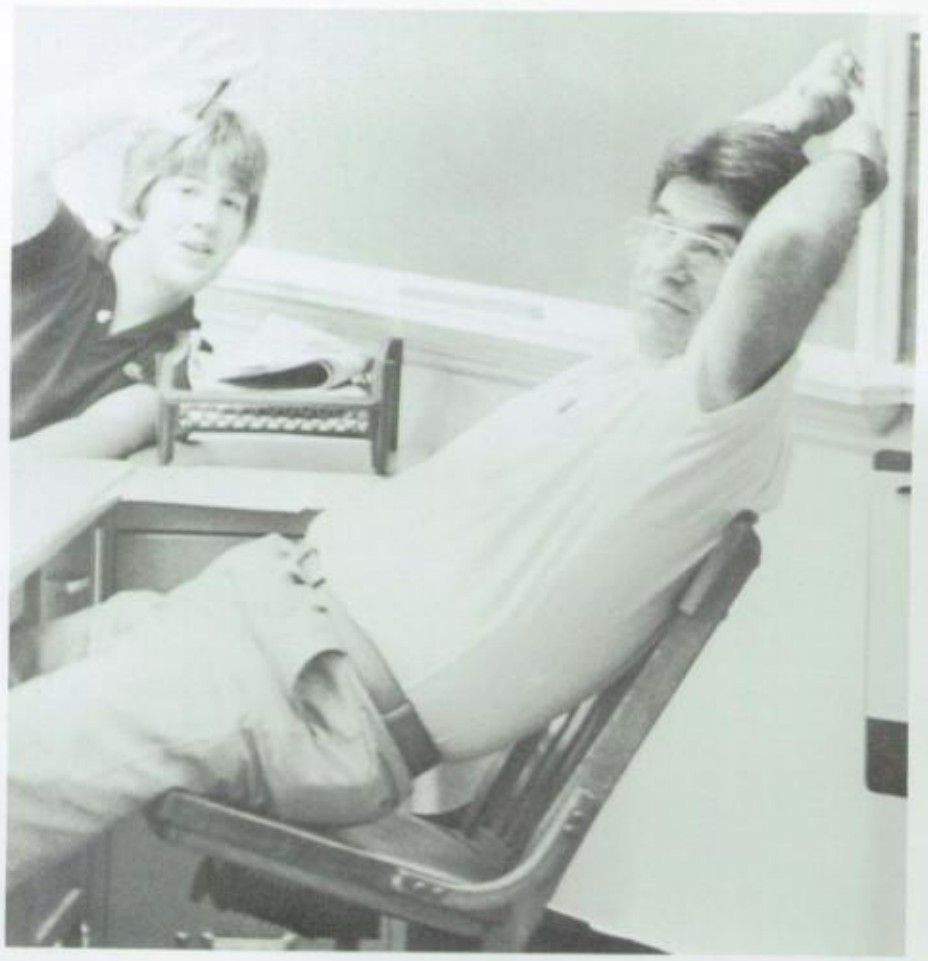
James Wagenknacht, Assistant Principal

Mr. Wagenknecht hands out late arrival passes; right, Mrs. Skillman writes up another In-House form.

MORE PAPERWORK?!!!!

Teachers groaned under the red tape in '86. With North Central Association Evaluation taking place in the spring, every teacher was on a committee, every committee prepared a report, every report had to be approved by the faculty. The culmination of all the bustle took place during three days of intense observation by over forty teachers. Every report was duly submitted, teachers were visited by at least one evaluator, and finally . . . it was over. School was back to normal, pressure was relaxed, and everyone forgot they would be back in 1993.





1. Mrs. Smith answers the same question for the 18th time, this time for Michelle Daniels. 2. Dr. Larry Boxerman looks over some government papers. 3. Mr. Venn works hard to type up another North Central form. 4. Mr. Shelton lectures to his class in European History. 5. Mr. Giebler "chills out" after a long day of teaching.

The Perils of Senior Life

Dave Meyer: The Object of Attention

A day in the life of a Senior can be very strenuous. What better way to relax than to go to an assembly to listen to a visiting choir. Wrong! Senior Dave Meyer soon learned that you're never safe. The choir from Sikeston, Missouri, picked this unsuspecting Senior to serenade. Dave was shocked at first, as pictures show, but as the song progressed, he started to loosen up and toward the end evidently began to enjoy himself.

Witnesses will testify he had to be almost dragged out of the bleachers, but as the fifties' melody soothed him he felt completely comfortable. It wasn't your everyday Senior experience, but one that will be forever remembered, at least in the yearbook.
